

Qur'an and Sayings of Prophet Muhammad

Discussion Questions

- After reading this book, what are the most essential similarities and differences that you find between Islam and Christianity, Judaism, and/or Buddhism?
- How do Islamic teachings about revelation differ from Christianity, Judaism, and/or Buddhism?
- How do Islamic teachings on the role and nature of prophets and messengers differ from Christianity, Judaism, and/or Buddhism?
- What personal insights did you gain on belief and spirituality for your own life's journey?
- What spiritual rituals or practices did you find most appealing or most difficult to understand? What topics did you struggle with? Which made the most sense to you?
- Do you find yourself agreeing or disagreeing with the author's teachings on the relationship between law and spirituality? Explain why this is so.
- What social insights did you gain on critical issues of war, peace, reconciliation, and inter-faith relations?
- What aspects of social teachings did you agree with the most and disagree with the most?
- Do you think teachings in this book on gender relations and family are useful or practical in the modern world?
- How did you find the relationship between Qur'anic passages and sayings of Prophet Muhammad? Was it enlightening or confusing? Discuss your take on the relationship and in what ways it resonated with you.